Cortland Fest 2015 – Police Department Activity and Expense

Friday and Saturday at Cortland Fest 2015 was relatively uneventful for officers working at the Festival.

Friday

- A large thunderstorm hit the area shortly after the fireworks ended causing the crowd to disburse without incident.
- Minor traffic control was needed after the fireworks ended.

Saturday

- An afternoon thunder shower thinned out the crowd, but the band for the evening, Back Country Roads, drew a good crowd later in the evening..
- There were no incidents reported during the concert. Officers maintained a presence, periodically walking through the crowd and engaging in conversation.
- Although personnel were positioned to direct traffic after the event on Saturday, the crowd seemed to thin gradually throughout the evening and no traffic control was needed.
- Officers rotated throughout the night between street duty and fest duty. This allowed officers to have time in an air conditioned car, helping them refresh for further duty.

Personnel Expense

47 hours

$1,162.04

*The DeKalb County Sheriffs Auxiliary assisted both days.
